VOL. XIX. NO. 44

WRANGELL, ALASKA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 4, 1920

PRICE TEN CENTS

Harding Elected President by Big Majority

Dan Sutherland Elected Delegate to Congress

John Rustgard Elected Attorney General

Harding is elected President by an overwhelming majority. The bulletins received are too numerous to be printed in this issue, but they show conclusively that there has been a Republican landslide.

In Alaska Dan Sutherland (Republican) has been elected Delegate to Congress and John Rustgard (Republican) has been elected Attorney-General.

The people of Alaska as a whole will be glad to learn that the Delegate has been elected by a safe majority. Both parties have had their fill of biennial delegate-ship contests.

Wolves Are Wiser Than Foxes

The wisdom of the fox is not so evident as the saying is widespread but the more I see of wolves the more respect I have for their intelligence, which is unique among the non-human inhabitants of the north.

The second day on the new land I met a wolf that came running toward me at first, for he could not fail to mistake me at a distance for a caribou, but when he got within two hundred yards and could see more plainly he realized my strangeness, and, what is truly remarkable, inferred that I might be dangerous. This wolf could certainly never have seen a human before, and the only dark thing of size comparable to mine that he had ever seen must have been either a caribou or muskox. The caribou are his prey, and while he seldom kills a muskox he at least has no reason to fear that exceptionally clumsy and slow moving animal.

But at two hundred yards this wolf paused and, after a good look that satisfied him that I was something new in his experience, commenced to circle me at that distance to get my wind. When he got it took him but a sniff or two and he was off at top speed.

The similarly unsophisticated foxes of this region will commonly run within 10 or 15 yards of you and follow you around for miles, barking like a toy dog following a pedestrian.—Vilhjalmur Stefansson in Harper's.

NOTICE

The land adjoining the city limits and extending to the cemetery east of the Government road has been located as a fur farm. No trespassing on said farm.

To a Natal Kaffir belongs the credit of inventing a labor-saving device for chimney cleaning. One of the colony journals says: "A native in Weenen had been asked to sweep a chimney, which he undertook to do. Later he was seen mounting the ladder he used for the purpose with a couple of fowls under his arm. These he allowed to flutter down the flue, and the job was done."

Wrangell Tax Rate Fixed at 1 1/2 Per Cent

There was a special meeting of the town council Monday evening for the purpose of making a tax levy for the year 1920. The rate was fixed at 1 1/2 per cent. For several years the rate has been 2 per cent. This year the majority of the property owners have had their assessments raised and on this account it was possible to lower the rate of taxation. The council estimated that with the increased valuation a levy of 1 1/2 per cent should make the tax receipts between $500 and $1000 more than was received last year, which is a close margin.

Notice of Hearing

A public hearing will be held at the U. S. Engineer Office, 602 Burke Building, Seattle, Wash., November 20, 1920, at 10:00 a. m., for the purpose of obtaining the views of interested parties in regard to the improvement of Wrangell Harbor, Alaska, a preliminary examination of which was ordered by the river and harbor act of June 5, 1920.

All interested parties are invited to be present. While for accuracy of record all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, oral evidence will be heard.

Edward H. Schulz,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers.

Case Dismissed

A civil action which was brought by Susie Shakes against Frank Galligan came up for a hearing before United States Commissioner Wm. G. Thomas last Saturday. The plaintiff sought to collect $5.00 alleged to be due her for rent on a small piece of land at Lake Bay. Mr. Galligan, in his answer to the complaint questioned the ownership of Susie Shakes to the land on which she sought to collect rent. The Commissioner dismissed the case, holding that a Commissioner's court has no jurisdiction in cases where land titles are involved.

U. G. Parks arrived on the Spokane Tuesday from Newark, Ohio, and will remain in the north indefinitely. Mr. Parks was in Wrangell a year ago for an outing. He is not the first man to come north on a vacation and later come back to stay for a longer time.

Bazaar a Success

The bazaar given by St. Philip's Guild at the Gymnasium last Saturday afternoon and evening was a great success, both socially and financially. The sum of $350 which was realized from the bazaar will be used toward the fund to build a Guild room addition to the Gymnasium.

The ladies of St. Philip's Guild have requested the Sentinel to state that they feel very grateful to the friends who sent in articles for the sale, contributed to the lunch or helped with the work.

Large bands of wolves are said to be menacing the caribou herds in the region between the Rose and O'Connor rivers, which were a menace to the hunters and their outfits. Hunters were obliged to keep their horses in camp to protect them, and Shorty Austin had one horse killed by wolves and one other badly injured.

Notice of Hearing

A public hearing will be held at the U. S. Engineer Office, 602 Burke Building, Seattle, Wash., November 20, 1920, at 10:30 a. m., for the purpose of obtaining the views of interested parties in connection with the preliminary examination of Wrangell Narrows, Alaska, ordered by the river and harbor act of June 5, 1920, with a view of deepening the channel to accommodate present and future commerce, and the determination of the relative advantages and practicability of the above improvement of Wrangell Narrows, as compared with the improvement of Dry Straits, recommended in house Document No. 68, Sixty-fifth Congress, first session.

All interested parties are invited to be present.

While for accuracy of record all important facts and arguments should be submitted in writing, oral evidence will be heard.

Edward H. Schulz,
Colonel, Corps of Engineers.

Chris Wedo leaves this week for Anan bay where he will spend the winter as a watchman at the trap of the Alaska Packers' association. This will be the fourth consecutive winter that Mr. Wedo has been the watchman at Anan bay.

The Civic Improvement club will meet tomorrow (Friday) afternoon at the City Hall at three o'clock.

Emil Peterson Injured

Emil N. Peterson, an employee of the Vermont Marble company, was brought to town Thursday night with several ugly wounds in his face as a result of being struck by a cable which broke while being used in pulling stumps at El Capitan. It was necessary for Dr. Shurick to take eight stitches in order to get Mr. Peterson's face back into shape.

W. E. Parrott this week filed a complaint against C. A. Anderson for criminal trespassing. The case was given a jury trial. The jury visited the property of Messrs. Parrott and Anderson near the head of the bay and upon returning to the courthouse rendered a verdict of not guilty. The jury stated that they were unable to decide a question of trespass in a case where there was an undefined property line.

Mrs. F. E. Frobese, who recently returned to Ketchikan after spending some time in Seattle, is opening a dressmaking parlor over the Otto Soberg store on Mission street.—Ketchikan Chronicle.

E. S. Hewitt of Juneau was aboard the Princess Mary this morning en route home from a trip east. Mr. Hewitt stated to the Sentinel reporter that during the past month clothing has been rapidly coming down in price in New York.

A special meeting of the Executive Board of the American Red Cross will be held at the home of the chairman, Mr. Benjamin this (Thursday) evening at 7:30 o'clock.

T. R. Sterling, the genial purser for the Barrington Transportation company, left on the City of Seattle Tuesday for Southern California. Mr. Sterling expects to return as far north as Seattle shortly after the new year.

Mrs. Robert McCormick left on the City of Seattle Monday night for Seattle, from which port she will go by rail to Milwaukee where she will visit her parents.

The St. Michael Trading company has just received a shipment of galvanized iron. Evidently the shortage on this class of material is loosening up.

REINDEER

The success which has attended the introduction and propagation of herds of reindeer in Alaska points the way to the profitable utilization of the immense tracts of otherwise unproductive lands of Arctic and sub-Arctic Canada. There are millions of acres in Yukon, and much more in Mackenzie River and beyond, eminently suited to this purpose, and these so-called "barren lands" could be made to yield an unlimited supply of food, and to add enormously to the leather goods industries of our land. There is no kind of winter clothing which for lightness and warmth can hold a candle to the hair-tanned reindeer skin. The Eskimos of the coast hold them in great esteem, both on account of their extreme lightness, and cold excluding qualities, but also for their beauty. It may be remembered some of the airmen returning from Nome were clad in such skins, and they would prove a great boon for the fliers in the low temperatures of high altitudes.

Many of the Siberian and Alaskan reindeer are piebald and the hair has almost the quality of fur, and will wear two or three times as long as the hair-tanned caribou skins, as the hair of the latter is coarse and brittle and sheds quickly.

Tentative efforts are being tried by the Government in the region about Hudson's Bay, but the rapid increase of the Alaskan herds would seem to warrant a much further extension of the industry.

The Eskimos, who are naturally an ambitious people, could be usefully and congenially employed in the care and extension of the herds, and might fill up considerable areas of the great uninhabited regions between the provinces and the Arctic.

It is proposed to capture a large number of young caribou bulls to improve the breed of the domestic herds. The converse might also be applied with benefit. If a number of domestic bulls could be liberated with the wild herds of a selected region, it would work for a great improvement, both in the quality of meat, and in the suitability of skins for clothing.

Many regions once overrun with caribou, are now known to have few or none, and the Native food supply is precarious, and the import of "white man's grub and clothes" has done more than any other one thing to lower the stamina of the Native populations.

This is a subject about which the Government should make zealous inquiry, and seek to encourage it against the time when the exploration of oil and other mineral resources shall greatly increase the population of the lands of the North.—Whitcomb Star.

NOTICE TO TAXPAYERS

Notice is hereby given that the Municipal Tax Roll for the year 1920 is now in my possession at the Bank of Alaska; that all taxes on real estate and personal property is now due and payable at the said bank; that all unpaid municipal taxes will become delinquent on the fourth (4th) Monday of December, 1920, at six (6) o'clock p. m. and if the said taxes are not paid on or before the said date and hour, five (5%) per cent will be added to the amount thereof.

Dated at Wrangell, Alaska, this 4th day of November, 1920.
G. W. UPSHAW,
Town Treasurer.

Candles From Human Fat.

Among soap anomalies may be mentioned human-fat toilet soap, known over continental Europe the past century or more and indicated by some medicos as a superior emollient. This sounds callous, but the art of soap making is not particularly noted for fine sentiment. The fat stock was obtained from cadavers of hospital and morgue derelicts and tried out like any other fat. Candles for special purposes have also been made from human fat.—Scientific American.

GREATEST SEAL HERDS IN HISTORY

Season Just Closed on Pribilof Islands — One of Best in Years

SEATTLE—The season just closed on the Pribilof islands was marked by the advent of the greatest seal herd ever seen on the islands, since the Government took charge of the seal industry, the census of the herd this year showing a total of 1,500,000 seals on the islands. The skins of the seals killed this year are still on the islands and if the Saturn succeeds in landing her way through the ice floes she will probably bring the furs back to Seattle.

SIBERIA YIELDS MANY FINE FURS

SEATTLE—Small craft returning from northern Alaska ports and the adventurous tradesmen who bartered goods for pelts on the Siberian shores across the Bering sea from American territory, are bringing many high-grade pelts to Seattle, where they are disposed of at sales to fur merchants of America, England and France by the Hibbard-Svenson company of this city. At their recent sale, more than $400,000 worth of high-grade furs were sold.

Though luxury taxes call for small coins, the Yukon Development league has turned down the proposal to introduce dimes and nickels into circulation in Dawson City. Dawson never has had any less coin than the 25-cent piece, and will adhere to it.—Whitehorse Star.

WHY LAMB AND MINT SAUCE

English Writer Goes Far Back to Trace Custom So Popular in That Country.

Lamb is the only meat with which mint sauce is partaken, and England is the only country where the custom is practiced.

The latter fact seems to disprove the idea that it originated with the Jews, else it would have been adopted in other countries where the race predominates to an even greater extent than in our own. Hence, also, it could not have originated or been associated with the "bitter herbs" which were eaten with the Paschal lamb.

When one remembers what are the vegetables usually eaten with lamb, we get a clue to mint sauce. And it is one that lends us to what is probably the true reason of its combination with lamb. New potatoes and green peas are the adjuncts immemorial time has led us to associate with the flesh of the lamb. These, our forbears decided, were provocative of indigestion, and therefore an adjunct must be introduced to correct this tendency.
Mint during all ages has been associated with such an office. The Latin poets have broken into song regarding its merits, and the giver of a feast never thought of laying the meat on the table until the boards had been scoured with this herb. So, in addition to being a corrective, mint had a reputation as an appetizer. Gerarde says, "The smell of mint doth stir up the mind and the taste to a greedy desire of meat."—London 'Tit-Bits.

FOODS NO LONGER IN USE

Vegetables and Meats, Familiar in the Middle Ages, Have Disappeared
From Modern Menu.

If the art of cooking has declined, it is in part due to the changing fashions in food. For instance, in Germany in the middle ages many vegetables were eaten which have long since disappeared from the table, such as violet leaves, mixed with young nettles, and green wheat, and boiled hemp seed. Salads were made of mallow leaves, celery roots, and purslane, mixed with salt and pepper, for oil was almost unknown. Olive oil was considered to snack of effeminacy and Italian luxury. Horseradish sauce was used instead.

The origin of sauerkraut is lost in antiquity. But it was certainly made by the German hausfrau long before cauliflowers or artichokes or potatoes were known. The potato revolutionized the fare of the poor, who had formerly to rely on the roots of wild plants. The variety of meats was larger, including beavers, and in Berne bears were kept for food. Spices and aromatics were much sought after and far more used for cooking. Ginger and nutmegs were used to flavor many dishes that have now vanished from our tables.

Honored His Great Foe.

The Crystal palace, home of the British Imperial War museum, was the scene in its earliest infancy of a touching incident apparently unrecorded by any of Wellington's biographers. According to "Le Palais de Cristal," a French weekly published in London at the time of the great exhibition, "one day in April, when our workmen were busily engaged unpacking exhibits in the French section, the duke of Wellington appeared, in company with his daughter, the marchioness of Douro.
He was expressing his interest in several products of French industry, when the workmen happened to open a case containing a statue of Napoleon. The duke stopped his conversation, removed his hat, and bowed his head. It was easy to see, both by the attitude of his body and the expression of his face, that the old soldier was deeply moved. There fell upon all present one of those deep spells of silence which imply more than an ocean of words."

Maritime Omelettes.

The "Pele Mele" (Paris) states in a recent issue that the eggs of the dog-fish possess all the nutritive qualities of ordinary farm eggs. Until lately, the dog-fish was quite neglected by fishermen and flung back into the sea as worthless, but today the fish is being actively sought by ships specially fitted for this class of fishing. The eggs of the dog-fish are frequently found as large as hens' eggs.

Tortoise eggs are considered a great delicacy, and make excellent omelettes.
They are, however, understood to be not adapted for boiling; the white of the egg does not harden as in the ordinary breakfast-table egg.

Offended Dignity.

Gertrude was on the lawn in front of the house, playing with the baby, aged two. Gertrude herself, not more than three times the other's age, was acting the part of mother. Presently along came a young man, who thought he understood children. "Good morning!" he said, taking off his hat. "How are you ladies today?" Gertrude looked at him with dignity. "Good morning," she replied, and went on attending to the baby. The young man stooped down, "Ah," he said, "and which is which?" "I'm Gertrude," replied the older girl, "and that's which!"

The Source.

"Experts tell us that, roughly speaking, one marriage in three results in divorce," began the chap with the fund of useless irritation.

"Yes," the other chimed in, "and it's the roughly speaking part that causes most of the trouble."

Alaskan Pioneer Celebrates His 80th Anniversary

(Communicated)

Among the social events of surpassing interest was the birthday party held October 25th, Monday night to honor Dr. Mulcahy who passed his eightieth birthday.
We have no doubt but what we people of Wrangell prefer to lay our bouquets on the graves of our dead heroes. But don't you think, kind reader, that we should honor the venerable doctor now?
He told many interesting stories about the Civil War and declared that those were the days of real fighting, when savagism fought hand to hand with sword or gun, when the rebel cry was often mingled with the Federals' whoop. It was in one of these intense struggles that he was shot in his head.

Mrs. Wm. H. Lewis surprised all present with a fine soprano solo. Mrs. Thomas' Case also permitted herself to be coaxed to render another. William L. Paul delighted with his "Exhortation," a negro vocal solo.

Mrs. Bidwell and Mrs. Patenaude promised to help celebrate in another hundred years, although all the guests will certainly wish to hear Mrs. Mulca-hy's sweet soprano voice sooner than that. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Nelson told the doctor that if he wished to see them in a hundred years, he would have to come up to heaven and give St. Peter his card. Tom Case said he would let the Doctor know if Annie Hull was down below for she is bound to be an angel and Tom will surely know if she is below.

God Gave You Health. Thank Him For It. Go to Church.

OME people never think of God until a loved one is ill or a great trouble besets them.
Then they seek the SOLACE OF RELI-GION. A clergyman is called in, and prayers are said at the bedside for the loved one's recovery. God is MERCIFUL, and ofttimes these prayers are answered, and the loved one recovers.

IT IS NOT FAIR TO GOD, HOWEVER, TO ASK HIM TO REMEMBER YOU WHEN YOU HAVE FORGOTTEN HIM. WHEN EV-ERYTHING IS GOING ALONG SMOOTHLY AND THE WORLD LOOKS BRIGHT SOME MEN FORGET THERE IS A GOD. THEY

NEVER GO TO CHURCH. WHILE THEY WILL RESENT THE CHARGE THAT THEY WOULD OPENLY OFFEND GOD, THEY OFFEND HIM DEEPLY BY NOT GOING TO CHURCH. THE suc-CESSFUL MAN SHOULD GO TO CHURCH TO THANK GOD FOR HIS WORLDLY GIFTS. THE SUPREME BEING GAVE HIM ALL HE HAS—LIFE, HEALTH, HAPPINESS—AND HE SHOULD THANK HIM FOR THEM.

Thanks to the GO TO CHURCH movement, there has been a religious awakening over the land. RELIGION NEVER WAS DEAD. All that it required was a stimulus, and that stimulus was provided by the GO TO CHURCH campaign. It should not be necessary to urge men to GO TO CHURCH. There isn't an argument that can be advanced by any man who believes in God in favor of staying away from church. Take away the churches and you will have a condition bordering on anarchy.

The man who GOES TO CHURCH is prepared to MEET ANY CRISIS, moral, physical or financial. His faith in a Supreme Being sustains him in the most severe trials.

JOIN THE GO TO CHURCH THROUG NEXT SUNDAY.
